1. Click on web link you received or type the URL in your browser to join the E-AGM meeting, then you will be logged in.
2. Enter username and password that you received. Then click the check mark in "Accept terms" box and press "Submit" button.
3. If username and password are correct, you will be allowed to enter the E-AGM conference system. The system will ask you to press the "Allow" button as shown in the image below when logging in or when you turn on camera and microphone. (If you do not press the allow button, other people may not be able to hear or see you when you want to ask questions in a meeting.)

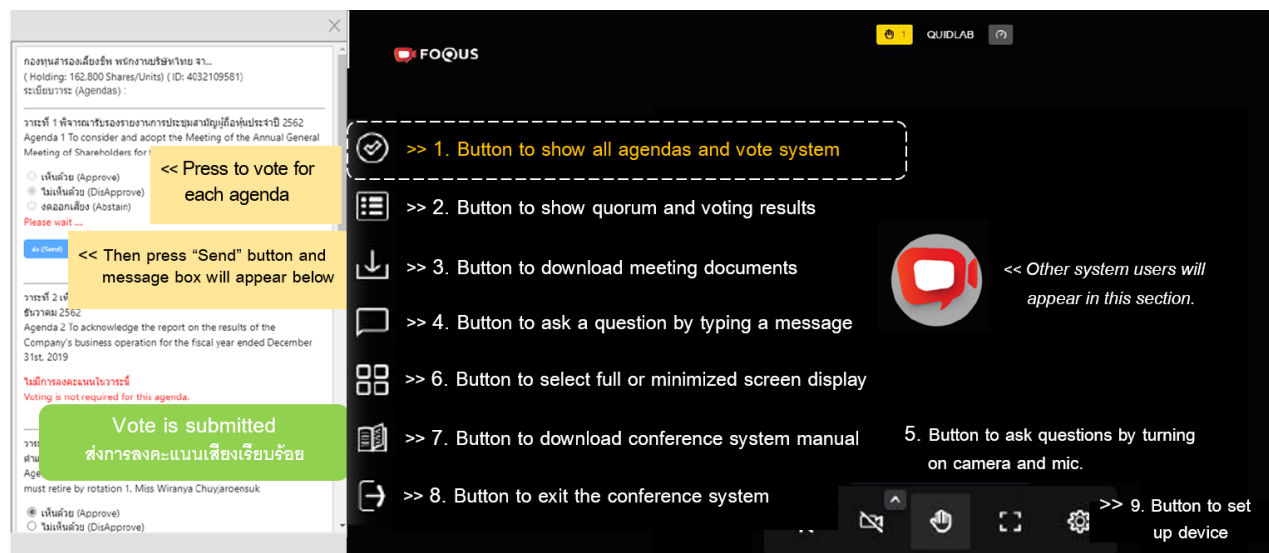

The E-AGM conferencing system consists of functionalities that you can access by pressing the following buttons:

Explanation of the functions of the menu buttons

Button number 1 Meeting agenda and voting system

- When pressing the button, the screen will display all meeting agendas. You can vote for each agenda by selecting the button "Agree" or "Disapprove" or "Abstain" and then pressing "Send" button to result in voting for that agenda. The system will notify the message "Vote is submitted" when you have already pressed the "Send" button.
- You can vote for each agenda throughout the meeting, except for the agenda where the voting has already been closed.

Button number 2 Quorum and voting results

- When pressing the button, the screen will display (1) quorum information and (2) voting results for each agenda that has already been closed.

Button number 3 Download meeting documents

- When pressing the button, the screen will display meeting documents for download, such as invitation letter, Form 56-1 One Report, Financial Statements, etc.

Button number 4 Ask a question by typing a message

- When pressing the button, the system will display a screen where you can type questions. And when you have finished typing the question, press "Send" button to have the question sent to the Company's staff. You will only see your own questions.

Button number 5 Ask a question by turning on the camera and microphone

- When pressing the raised hand button (which is located at the bottom of screen), you must wait for the Company staff to approve the request. So you can turn on the camera and microphone to ask questions.

Button number 6 Select the screen display format

- When pressing the button, you can choose to display a full screen or a thumbnail display showing all participants who have the camera turned on.

Button number 7 Download conference system manual

- When pressing the button, the screen will display manual of the E-AGM conference system for download.

Button number 8 Logs out of the conference system.

- When pressing the button, the system will ask you to confirm "Are you sure you want to log out?". If you want to log out, press the "Logout" button.

Button number 9 Settings

- If you are unable to turn on camera or microphone to ask questions. When pressing this button, you will be able to check if your device is connected to the system or not. Please select the connection to match the device.
